In a few minutes, I'm going to show you how this monkey can teach you to achieve x,y,z...

In a few minutes, I'm going to show you how this golden handcuffs can teach you...

Explanation.

How to [achieve very specific desired result without the usual barriers in the next 30/60/90 days]

1:- This is the " big promise ' and Its the next vital step.

2:- This big promise must hit the direct bullseye , for what your market is starving for.

3:- The big promise is what hooks them and gets them eager to listen to what you have to say.

Explanation.

The vehicle/ OFFER should be realy exciting.

N = New
U = Unique
E = Exciting
E = Easy
P = Predictable
H = Huge

This is something, jo market ne kabhi na suna ho (NEW VEHICLE)

Explanation.

NEW = You want to make it new and novel somehow. Is there a new mechanism or methodology to achieve a desired result you can use?

UNIQUE= Make it different from everything else they've seen or heard before – make it stand apart from all the promises that have saturated the market before it.

EXCITING = The topic itself needs to be exciting, as well as the way you present it in your VSL. You can't bore your prospects into buying, they'll just click away and buy elsewhere.

PREDICTABLE = You need to reduce the risk factor. When you make big, bold, exciting promises, you add to the skepticism which is rampant online. You need to mitigate this by making it clear they can achieve the promise while risking minimal time, effort and money. You do this by making your offer produce a very predictable outcome.

HUGE = The size of the opportunity that your offer enables must be huge! This is important because it demands attention and offers that don't demand attention get ignored i.e. a highly lucrative opportunity to invest in the booming property market in specific growth corridors!

Explanation.

Some examples.

Example 1 = How To Make Your 'Ugly' Property 'Irresistible' With $5,000 In Just A Single Week

...Even If You've Never Picked Up A Hammer Before!

Example 2 = How To Use Facebook Ads + An Ugly 35 Minute Power Point To Scale Your Consulting Business To $1m Per Year In 180 Days

...Even If You've Not Tech Savvy And Have Never Run Ads

Example 3 = How To Launch Your New Pilates Career In 140 Days And Earn Up To $1,250 Per Week

...Even If You Have Don't Have The Time Or Money Right Now!

Example 4 = How To Consistently Close $2,000 - $250,000 Sales Over Phone Without Hype, Pressure, Or Dated Pushy Sales Tactics

...Even If You Hate Sales And Are Completely Introverted!

Explanation.

The next thing is to introduce yourself.

Explanation.

Hey it’s [insert your first and last name] here

Here they are expecting you to give a introduction. But You won’t allow them to follow a pattern.

You need to interupt that.

So that, You can directly jump to other loop and people keep watching.

Explanation.

And let me ask you this…

Are you sick and tired of [experiencing main frustration/pain point]?

And do you wish you could [eliminate another main frustration]?

Or are you looking for ways to [achieve desired outcome without the usual barriers]?

Asking these questions not only keep your prospects attention but empathises with them.

And keeps them on a yes ladder, where they're unconsciously nodding their heads and say 'yes'

Explanation.

If this sounds like you, then you’re in luck…

Because in the next few minutes, I’m going to reveal…

The single most exciting [insert opportunity i.e. money-making, property investment, business growth] opportunity on the planet with you...

Sound good?

Excellent!

1:- This has got their blood pumping and their mouth frothing for your solution to their most pressing problem..

2:- But just when they think we're going to reveal it we fold them in another direction.

3:- Humans are pattern following machine, they try to make a pattern for everthing becasue of which they can predict the next thing and they lose the attention.

We need to to break the pattern and send them to a. Diff direction.

4:- You want to do whatever you can to encourage them to keep watching to the end and stay engaged

Explanation.

Now before I reveal this….

Let me first say that it’s NOT for everybody!

I have to be ridiculously selective about who I share this with…

"It builds exclusivity"

Explanation.

For reasons, you'll understand in just a moment…

"We're now opening a loop in the prospects mind that they won't be able to close unless they keep watching"

Explanation.

But first, let me SHOW you what I'm talking about…

We need to show proof..
Insert proof with as many angle as you can.

Women , man , young , emails , prooofs ,Photos.

"We SELL them on watching by showing them results and undeniable proof that what we're about to reveal works"

Explanation.

Now before I tell you exactly how we achieve these results…

Let me briefly explain who I am and why you should listen to me at all

My name is [NAME] and I’m a world renowned expert in [XYZ]

I’m also the founder of [company], the leaders in [industry]

We help [target market] like you [solve their problems and achieve their desired outcome with minimal time, effort and frustration].

I’m passionate about helping [target market] do this because [short version of the reason why they started company].

Here’s what I mean…

[Tell the origin story which elaborates on how the founder started the company and demonstrates their values, expertise and experience].

I need to share who i am & my story.. So when i am going to share my story.. I need to keep this in my head.

- How you started company?
- Origin?
- Story sell. Build trust , show empathy.
- Show your story.
- show them your bad story. / old.
- show where u used to work etc.

"This is where you insert your hero's journey story of where you started all the obstacles, hardships, struggles and DRAMA you had to go through..."

Explanation.

[You want to connect with your audience, build trust, show empathy to their situation and establish your credibility].

[Here are 5 examples:]

[How you overcame a great obstacle against all odds]

[How you had the same problem as the target market and found a solution]

[How you put in a tonne of time, money and effort to learn something difficult].

[How you saw friends, family and clients struggling with the target market’s problem and wanted to help them].

[Or identify a common enemy you have with the target market and how you beat it].

1:- Drama is the only thing anyone cares about.

2:- Show them how broke/fat/awkward you were don't tell them.

3:- Don't tell them, SHOW them

4:- Show pictures of you in the early days [The more embarrassing the better]

5:- Get very descriptive and put DETAIL into your story. Don't say I was "Dead broke and stressed". Give them DETAILS...

Explanation.

Since then I have [achieved amazing results – made $XXm, built XXX homes, lost XXkgs, and helped XXX people achieve similar results in XX years]…

1:- Insert your credibility. Rattle off social proof such as how many years you've been in the field, how many clients you've helped and how much money you've made them/saved them, your personal success examples, and anything else applicable.

2:- You also want to display any media and press coverage you've had such as 'I've been featured in Forbes, Entrepreneur Magazine and the Huffington Post'

3:- If you've spoken on the stage with other experts the market is familiar with, this will also build your credibility

4:- Now that you've established your authority...

5:- If you have photos with celebrities (doesn't even have to be related to what your business is), this will also work wonders for you.

6:- Now you want to make it relatable to the position your ideal target market might be in right now (ideally worse)...

7:- Then you want to highlight that this was all made possible by applying your method/system/framework...

Explanation.

All using the method I discovered in the beginning – which I'm about to share with you.

Add scepticism = a general feeling of doubt about something; a feeling that you are not likely to believe something.

Explanation.

I know this might be hard to be believe – or you may think you could never do this.

However, virtually ANYONE can repeat my success using my proven method/ system/framework.

"Now we need to start closing some of those loops we opened earlier..."

Explanation.

Now back to that [Insert pattern interrupt]

[Introduce how your pattern interrupt can help them achieve their desired result]

[Or how your pattern interrupt is the reason they've not been able to achieve their desired result]

1:- Now back to those [golden handcuffs/lies/Insert pattern interrupt]

2:- These things are deadly and are the reason you've never been able to start your own business and quit your 9-till-5…

3:- You see, most people are at a job that pays them well 'enough' that they never bite the bullet and chase their dreams

4:- They never get to break free and finally live life on their own terms…

5:- Instead they stay in a soul-crushing job they hate, as the salary and security is too good to leave for the unknown.

6:- This is called the golden handcuffs scenario

7:- And I should know, because I once hand them around my wrists so tight they were cutting off my blood circulation!

8:- Until I discovered my step-by-step framework that allowed me to finally [achieve very specific desired result without the usual barriers]

Examle of Handcuff story….. and relate with offer

Explanation.

1:- Now back to that monkey

2:- That's not no ordinary monkey

3:- You see, that monkey is the monkey that has been sitting on your back your entire life

4:- Pulling at your heels, weighing you down and whispering in your ear...

5:- Don't worry you'll get to finally achieve [desired end outcome] some day in the future...

6:- But that someday has never come...until now!

7:- Because my secret framework allows you to finally [achieve very specific desired result without the usual barriers in the next 30/60/90 days]

8:- That's how it's done and it perfectly transitions us into the next section

One more example. (Monkey)

And I guarantee this is NOT like anything you’ve ever seen or heard about before

So pay very close attention because this could be the big break you’ve been looking for

"Everyone is looking for a break, that hidden piece of information that has been holding them back from achieving what they desire most"

Explanation.

2:- This proof clearly illustrates the 'dream come true' transformation that your prospects can experience

3:- Further getting them excited with another promise of results and subtlety dismiss their objections

4:- Now we tell them what we actually do...

Explanation.

[Explain how the process works and what makes you different and superior to your competitors].

[We do all the tedious research for you, so you don’t have to do it yourself]

"Now we move into partnering our system with the desired end outcome and handle objections"

All without [the thing they hate i.e. wasting money, hours on the treadmill etc]

[Retiring early with financial freedom, walking on the beach with their dream body, quitting their boring 9-5 etc.] without [risking a cent, doing hours of cardio, risking their income]

"By this stage their scepticism is going to be through the roof and objections will be coming out their eyeballs"

Explanation.

And by the way, you may be thinking…

[Raise biggest objection of your market… The ‘sales killer’]

Here we have to kill the biggest Objection & then I will say, I don’t blame you..
I used to think the same way.

Explanation.

I don’t blame you

I used to think exactly the same way!

That was until I discovered [evidence that disqualifies and overcomes the objection]

You want to take the biggest objection that your market has and shatter it into a thousand pieces.

Using undeniable and unquestionable proof to prove your case.

After this is done we then go on to address the next objections breaking them down one by one.

Explanation.

Or maybe you’re still worried about [second objection]?

[Provide reason with evidence that overcomes this objection]

Or are you still concerned with [third objection]?

Or are you still concerned with trademil , that you need to run alot, well sid used to hate same and he got the results.
